ANGRY MOB ATTEMPTS LYNCHING OF CHILD MURDER SUSPECT

(By Associated Press)
Springfield, Mo., June 10.—After being suspended by a rope from a tree for several minutes by an angry mob of fourteen-months old Lloyd Keel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Holland Keel, G. J. Persol was released and returned to the custody of the sheriff after refusing to confess to the crime. Persol and five other prisoners under arrest for the crime were taken from Sheriff William Webb, at Stockton, forty miles from here, by a mob of forty-five angry Springfield citizens who went out to meet the posse which was taking the prisoners to Jefferson Jail. Webb pleaded with the men not to hang an innocent person and they told him that they had no intention of killing anyone who was innocent. Sheriff Webb is believed to have four

THE AMERICAN WOMAN WILL DO HER DUTY IN THE WAR

New York, June 10.—American women will not only equal but will probably surpass the heroic war-time work of the women of Europe according to Kathleen Burke, official delegate to the United States and Canada from the Scottish Women's Hospitals, who has been making a tour of this country after having seen war service in the various Allied frontiers. Her statement is contained in the foreword of a book on Britain's Civilian Volunteers which has been dedicated to the National League for Women's Service, whose nation-wide organization now comprising nearly two million women, was based on the war work of the women of England.

"On my mission of mercy across this great continent, from North to South and East to West," says Miss Burke, "I have found that in most instances my success was due to the eager and efficient co-operation of the women in each city. I have been more than favorably impressed by the splendid working systems of the Civilian Volunteers, the Women's Clubs, the great colleges and girls' schools in this land. If the women of America would turn their genius for organization to the support of the National League for Women's Service, within six months there would be existing in every city, town and village a band of skilled women prepared to face and deal with any local disaster or national crisis.

"History must record the record which splendid devotion of the women of the warring nations, nobles and peasants, rich and poor, should be a model for the women of America. They have united in their self-sacrificing humanity. The war has clearly demonstrated that whilst sectors and modern standards of social work are unknown. In such communities the proper administration of mothers' pension work raises the standards of all activities for child care.

"Legislation for mothers' pensions is in line with other legislation for the protection of childhood. It reiterates the new emphasis of the value of home life for all normal children, and indicates the necessity of provision from public funds, for fatherless children. It supplements our child labor laws, compulsory education laws, and other laws which render all children dependent on their families until they are of working age. These latter laws place an impossible burden on the widow unless some means is furnished here that will take the place of the father's support."

FIREMEN HELD MEMORIAL FOR DEAD MEMBERS

Sunday morning the members of the Portsmouth Fire Department and Franklin Pierce Veterans Firemen's Association held their annual memorial services in honor of their dead, the services being held at the Court Street Christian Church. Following a short parade, led by a band, under command of Chief William F. Woods, the members of the department, regulars and call men, and the veterans, left the Central Fire Station and proceeded through Pleasant to Congress to Middle to Court streets and to the church.

Owing to the disagreeable condition of the weather fewer people than usual witnessed the parade, but the men made a fine showing and to those who were witnesses their numbers were a revelation.

At the church, the services were simple and a masterful eulogy was delivered by the Rev. Percy W. Caswell, pastor of the church, in memory of the dead firemen. Previous to the services the members of the department, regulars and call men, and the veterans, left the Central Fire Station and proceeded through Pleasant to Congress to Middle to Court streets and to the church.

MAY CHANGE THE BLUE FOR THE OLIVE-DRAB

Christopher Smart, Jr. and Robert D. Anderson, two of Portsmouth's "blue coated guardians" were among the 1037 young men of military age who registered last Tuesday for army service in this city under the selective draft act. At the time they were the only members of the department which came within the age limit set by Congress for service in the war army, although since the registration Ralph Truman has been appointed to the department, making a third member of the force liable to the draft.

Chris and Bobby are a couple of pretty husky boys and from their records while in the service of the city can be counted upon to do full justice to themselves and their country should they be among the number called to the colors. Bobby Anderson was appointed to the force early in 1914 and has covered some of the toughest beats at night and for the past two summers has been the traffic officer at the corner of Main and Congress streets, one of Portsmouth's busiest places for automobile traffic. That he isn't afraid to get into a scrap may be shown by the way he went into the railroad yards two years ago when the "boos" were making Portsmouth a headquarters for New England. Anderson was on that beat at night and after a few weeks campaign he had the place pretty well cleaned of hoboes. It is more than likely that Uncle Sam can find a place for Bobby in the ranks of his fighting men, which will be filled by the best American can produce, physically and mentally.

Chris was appointed to the force in the fall of 1915 and was assigned to special duty as driver of the police patrol. He held this post until the retirement of Captain Robinson who was assigned to night duty for so many years as the bank officer. After his retirement Smart was assigned to this post and has been on that duty until the last of the present month when he was transferred to day duty.

Smart stands six feet tall and without an ounce of fat weighs close to the 200 mark. A number of former prisoners can testify to the fact that little trouble or danger doesn't worry him. Beside his usefulness as a soldier in the ranks he is an expert automobile mechanic and the present soldier who can drive and repair a motor truck is considered a valuable man.

With so many of those who registered for service claiming exemption the possibility of both Anderson and Smart being drafted is more than likely, unless the exemption board, as some believe, may make it a point to exempt all police officers.

"Spider" Truman, the latest addition to the force, also within the age limit for military duty, may prove a valuable man for Major General Pershing. Truman is considered one of the ablest motor cycle drivers in this section, is a good athlete, and a husky looking youngster.

Let Us Be Reasonable.

This paper recently ventured to remark that the people of the country, instead of grumbling and complaining, should bow gracefully to any necessary curtailment of passenger service on the railroads in behalf of a better freight service in this time of stress. And that the point was well taken is shown by what former President Howard Elliott of the New Haven railroad said the other day in New York, where this subject was under consideration. "The public," he said, "should willingly give up non-essentials. It is going to be a great deal more important for this country to move food, fuel, iron and the like than to move luxuries."

The truth of that statement should be easily perceived by the most ordinary mind. Mr. Elliott said that on May 1 there was a shortage of 130,000 cars, but he believed that with more expeditious loading and unloading of cars, with the better movement of freight trains that will be made possible by curtailment of the passenger service, it will soon be possible to increase the freight service to the equivalent of 150,000 cars. It is easy to understand that if this could be done it would mean much to the business of the country, which is bound to be crippled to as great an extent as transportation is crippled.

Apparently there are those who suspect that the proposed reductions in the passenger service are to be made by the railroads as a money-saving scheme, but Mr. Elliott declares that such is not the case, and there is reason to believe that what he says is true. In speaking for the railroads he said among other things: "There is a very luxurious passenger service in some places in the country which we would like to keep up, but the country can get along without some of it. We are suggesting changes in the passenger service, not with the idea of saving money, but simply to save man power, all of which must be applied to the transportation of necessities."

There has been more complaint of the freight service in the past than there is likely to be of the passenger service, with all the curtailment that may be made. All should realize that if this country is to properly handle the work in hand transportation of freight must be kept to the very highest point of efficiency, and it appears that the only way to do this under present conditions is to take over to the freight service some of the engines and men now employed in the passenger departments.

It is a simple prescription, and as sensible as it is simple. The step should greatly relieve the situation without inflicting any actual hardship upon the public, and the proposition is to be welcomed rather than condemned. By accepting cheerfully such inconvenience as may be entailed in some cases the public will be acting patriotically and for its own material interests at the same time.

And in the midst of all the turmoil Massachusetts has set out to revise her constitution. It will be impossible for the popular interest in the work of the convention to be as keen as it would be under different conditions, but perhaps this will be no detriment to the work of the delegates. Not every Tom, Dick and Harry will be at liberty all the time to criticize and find fault.

The government has found use for the services of Miss Ruth Law, the aviatrix, which were offered soon after the declaration of war with Germany. She was started out the other day in a flying machine from which she drops Liberty loan literature. This is indeed a novel method, and it is quite possible that its novelty will add to its effectiveness.

One Connecticut man on the day of registration pleaded for exemption on the ground that he had and was supporting two families, one in this country and one in Russia. The plea was not accepted. On the other hand, the registrars seemed to feel that he had enough to fight for to make his name on the rolls decidedly appropriate.

The penalty for reckless automobiling at this time should be conscription without regard to age or physical condition and immediate forwarding to the front. A few sentences of that character would be liable to cool the ardor of those who are in the habit of ignoring the law and the rights of people on the highways.

There has been much comment on the good order that attended the work of registration last Tuesday, as if anything else was to have been expected. It was a day on which millions of young men performed a solemn duty, and anything but good order would have been entirely un-American.

June hasn't been particularly "June" so far, but it is to be expected that there will be the usual number of June weddings, whatever the weather may be. It is a habit the American people have.

Censorship at the Wrong End

(From the Boston Herald)

A contributor to our letter box from Plymouth, N. H., remarked the other day, that the German spy did not wait to get his information from the newspaper at his breakfast table, relying on its revelations for material to smuggle over to his own people. Nothing could be truer. Witness the experience of the steamer Southland, from Liverpool to Philadelphia, torpedoed without warning on June 4, with six Americans on board; one of whom is missing. The U-boat commander when informed of the name of the ship expressed surprise, saying: "Why you're a week ahead of your time."

This shows that, while American newspapers are properly refraining from publication of items regarding the coming and going of ships, the German spy system throughout the world manages to get the facts it needs and to transmit them to the home office for distribution. The submarine commander obtained his information in England in this instance and not in America; but we fear the spies in this country are no less vigilant than their fellows by the British Isles.

You may have noticed the other day that all the American newspapers announced the arrival of the Root mission at "a Russian port." Nobody said which one, but do you suppose the Germans are in any doubt about that? Why should they have a monopoly on such information? Might there not be advantages to our cause in its dissemination here? We may have the censorship without the expected benefit thereof.

The censorship suffers vitiation from the contrasting practices of the various allied governments. Our state department withheld the name of the American merchant ship which sunk the German submarine the other day in pursuance of a British practice, in order to prevent reprisal on the part of the Germans in case the vessel subsequently falls into their hands. Paris, however, promptly made public the name of the ship and our navy department gave out the names of the commander and gun crew. Such instances are constantly arising. We should at least have team work if we are to have the censorship at all.

Is The Submarine Failing?

(From the Gloucester Times)

For three weeks in April, the acknowledged losses of British vessels as the result of being torpedoed by German submarines were such as to produce something like a panic in England and also in the United States. But the month of May tells a different story, and last week's toll was the lowest of any week since the beginning of the unrestricted warfare. Are we therefore to assume that the U-boats are failing to accomplish the object for which they were released?

Of course we do not know the whole story, and in the lists published from week to week there are included only British vessels. There is a possibility that these lists are so arranged as to give a false impression. But this possibility is remote. The British government has learned that leaving the public out of its confidence is not very profitable and it is inclined to tell something which is at least somewhere near the truth.

The argument that the sinking of vessels belonging to other nations, even the neutrals, must be taken into account, has also some weight to it. For a reduction of the world's shipping, whatever the character of this shipping, has effects which are felt everywhere.

And yet the fact stands out that of the very large number of vessels reaching and leaving England weekly, only a few are sunk by the submarines. At the present rate of sinkings, England cannot be starved into making peace before the next harvests are in hand. And by 1918, England will be self-supporting so far as food is concerned. Moreover each month gives new opportunity for bringing into play new devices against submarines, and also the coming of the vessels to be constructed in American yards.

There may be surprises yet in store for all of us. But so far as now appears the German people will have before many months to face the fact that their last and what they thought was their deadliest weapon, has failed.

OLYMPIA THEATRE NOTES.

The Famous Players-Lasky company have bought $100,000 worth of Liberty Bonds.

The biggest party that was ever given to the citizens of a city, was given to the citizens of Kansas City recently by the Kansas City Star, one of the most prominent newspapers in the United States. In the gigantic convention hall which seats more than 20,000 people, Marguerite Clark was hostess, appearing in "Snow White." The Convention hall was obtained and for two days, morning, afternoon and evening with each performance following the other, and as fast as the hall could be emptied, eleven performances of "Snow White" were given each day, the pictures being run continuously, filling the auditorium to capacity at each showing.

Not since the days of ancient Athens and Rome, where the amphitheatres were thrown open by the emperors who were patrons of dramatic art, has such a colossal entertainment been given.

In the center of the great Convention hall was placed a hollow square of pure white, on each side of which were thrown from projecting machines stationed at four sides of the hall, the most fascinating and daintily artistic photoplay ever screened, "Snow White."

The pictures on all four screens were shown simultaneously and music was in perfect harmony at all times with the production.

The stela role of "Snow White" is played by the fascinating favorite and universally loved Marguerite Clark, who appeared in the stage version of "Snow White" under the management of Winthrop Ames in New York City.

Kansas City never before saw such a sight as was presented during those two days at Convention hall. During the early morning hours of the first day there were thousands of people who congregated at the doors of the hall endeavoring to be among the first to see the picture. Reserve police were required to handle the crowds and special trolley service was provided for the outside towns.

From all sides there were heard words of praise for the star and compliments for Miss Clark for her wonderful work in the picture.

"Snow White" is our feature picture today and it is unnecessary for us to go into further detail about it, except that Creighton Hale is the leading man and the picture is in seven reels.

Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne appear in the final chapter of "The Great Secret," and Dorothy Gish stars in the Triangle play, "Her Oriental Father."

Come early. Be sure and bring the children.

NAVY NOTES

Home for Sunday.

Chief Machinist James Quill of the recruiting office at Charlestown navy yard, passed Sunday at his home in this city.

The thousand naval apprentices, at the local navy yard were not assigned to the tents of the new camps today as planned, owing to the weather.

Ways Nearly Ready.

Working at Charlestown.

Samuel Wilson of Eliot, for several years employed at the Portsmouth navy yard boiler shop, is employed in the same capacity at the Charlestown navy yard.

Patrol Doing Good Work.

The patrol of master-at-arms from the Baltimore and other ships at the local navy yard who are sent over to this city during the day and night, have done much to maintain order among the enlisted men. Although they have had very little trouble, their work is much appreciated by the police and the public in general.

Ten From Concord.

The navy recruiting station at Concord had ten enlistments for the week ending June 9. The men came from Concord, Lynn, Mass., Lacota, West Concord, Littleton, Ashland, Crowden, Claremont, Webster, Littleton.

RED CROSS SEEK TO RAISE $1,000,000 FUND

Washington, D. C., June 11.—"Red Cross Week" proclaimed by President Wilson as a period of sacrifice and generosity, and in which the Red Cross will seek to raise a $1,000,000 war fund, begins Monday, June 18.

In response to many requests, Henry P. Davison, Chairman of the War Council of the Red Cross, makes the following statement:

"The Red Cross War council has been asked to name the specific purposes to which it expects to devote the $1,000,000 which it has asked the American people to contribute between June 18th and 25th, the period the President of the United States has set apart as Red Cross Week. The public is, of course, entitled to as specific a statement on this subject as we are able to make.

"Our first obligation is to render such service as comes within the province of the Red Cross to our soldiers and sailors at home and abroad. Consideration of the vastness of this undertaking alone as compared with any other situation ever known to us will impress one with the impossibility of forming in particular the amounts of money required to care for our countrymen.

"After making every provision necessary for this purpose, our endeavor will be to supplement the efforts of our allies in caring for their sick and wounded.

"We shall help provide the bare necessities of life to the homeless in devastated France; to aid them to rehabilitate themselves and thus to strengthen the man power of the French army.

"We shall strive to lighten Russia by providing additional ambulances and other relief for the sick and the wounded along the battle front. We shall try to succor the homeless and wandering people of Poland, Lithuania, and Western Russia.

"We hope to extend aid to those who are fighting the battles of liberty in Rumania, Serbia and Italy—indeed to relieve human misery everywhere among our allies.

"We have set $100,000,000 as the minimum of our need. It is evident that we could use many times that amount. To administer these funds economically and efficiently we are developing an organization headed by some of the most competent and experienced business men in the country. They serve without pay.

"In due course we shall make a report to congress so that the public may know the total amounts expended and how very small a percentage was found necessary for expenses.

"Before expending money the most expert advice obtainable will be secured. Leaders in every line of related activity throughout the United States have freely placed their counsel and services at our disposal.

"While we recognize the desirability of a specific budget, we can only say that our task is to relieve human misery upon a world scale at a time when more people are suffering than ever before in the history of mankind; and we shall pursue this task under the guidance of the ablest experts in the world.

"The American people can rely therefor, upon the fact that the Red Cross war fund of $100,000,000 or however much more than that the generosity of the public will enable us to use will be administered as efficiently, as economically and as large-heartedly as we know how to do it.

"We believe firmly that the efforts of our Red Cross can be a vital and possibly a deciding agency in helping to win this war. To us, of the war council, that is a humanitarian service in its highest sense and to render it effectively will be our paramount purpose."

Although a couple of hundred of the senior class at the Boston Tech are already engaged in occupations related to military service, the exercises of graduation will not be broken up to the extent that is elsewhere prevalent, by the absence of the men who are to receive degrees. While a considerable number of men are at Plattsburg or actually in service in this country or with the ambulance units in France, still there are many who are preparing by extra study for special technical service. These men, among whom are the students taking the emergency courses in Naval Architecture and those getting ready for examinations for commissions in the various branches of the army and navy, are still within the Institute walls and were present at graduation.

The exercises of senior week included most of the regular features, the dance being omitted. On Sunday afternoon at 4 the baccalaureate sermon was preached in Trinity Church by Bishop Lawrence; Monday evening was the date of the class dinner, while Tuesday was given over to a celebration which combined graduation, class day and the gathering of the alumni. The exercises were out-of-doors, first in one of the great courts of the Institute and then in another. The graduation included a short address by President MacArthur, the reading of three or four theses and the granting of the degrees; the alumni celebrated by dedicating two great flag staffs, the central features of the two minor courts and the accompanying flag raising, while the class day exercises included a reception by the President, the initiation of the class into the M. I. T. Alumni Association and music and refreshments. It was the first commencement in the new location of Tech and all made the most of it.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 11.—Nurses in the present war will have a more difficult task than did the nurses in the earlier conflicts, asserted Miss Mary B. Leont of New York, associate secretary of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, in an address delivered here today before the National Conference of Charities and Correction.

"A large number of homes left without bread winners will increase the infant mortality, the malnutrition among children and many other complications of both children and adults. Mothers will be forced out of the homes to work, thereby neglecting the health and care of the children. Babies will suffer unless special provision is made for the more pre-natal care. Industrial accidents and disease will multiply on account of the crowded conditions of our factories.

"The breaking down of hours of labor will increase the amount of serious effects of fatigue from night work for men, women, and children. Child labor will increase. The cutting down of food supplies will seriously affect the lives of the workers and their families. The health of the farmers must be better protected as so much will depend upon them.

ARREST FOLLOWS AUTO ACCIDENT

As the result of an auto accident which befell a trio of Boston young men about 11 Saturday night, Foster Allen lies at the Exeter Cottage hospital in a critical condition with a fractured skull, and his cousin, Joseph Allen, is in Portsmouth Jail arrested for reckless driving.

With W. M. Bennett, they were taking tea Moline purchased a second hand car sold by the L. A. Morgan garage at 1355 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, by which they were employed.

Joseph Allen was driving and his cousin and Bennett were seated in the rear. The supply for the acetylene gas head lamp having failed, they were running with kerosene sated lights only. Near the Exeter waterworks they drove over the abandoned trestle of the old street railway.

The car crashed through the protesting fence, the driver lost control and the auto dropped head foremost to the bed of the brook.

Foster Allen and Bennett were thrown out headlong. Allen's head striking a rock, Joseph Allen remained in the car. George M. Lord of Exeter, returning from Portsmouth a few minutes later, reported the accident to the Exeter police station, and the trio of young men were quickly taken to the hospital.

It was found that Bennett had received not even a scratch and was uninjured save for the shaking up and the temporary shock to his nerves. Joseph Allen, the driver, lost a piece of his tongue, broke a small bone in his right hand and received a cut and bruise. Foster Allen's skull was fractured and a trephining operation was necessary. He remains unconscious and the outcome cannot yet be predicted.

TRIES TO ENLIST FOUR TIMES, NOW ACCEPTED

Herbert C. Gynan, aged 20 years of Haverhill, has been tentatively accepted for military service, having been rejected four times. Young Gynan first tried to enlist in Battery A, which was recently formed in Haverhill, but was rejected as he weighed only 117 pounds.

He then tried to get into the naval service but four teeth were responsible for his rejection, and the same reason was advanced when he applied for enlistment in the marine corps. The fourth time he tried for the coast artillery he was turned down.

He has recently been farming at Kittery where he gained 17 pounds and when he came back and applied for the army corps Robert Amos, who has charge of the recruiting station in Haverhill after hearing his story of rejection decided to take him.

Gynan, will however, first have to obtain his birth certificate in Salisbury, and he hopes to get into the army when he submits to a physical examination on Monday in Boston.

NOVELTY PARTY AND DANCE

BRODIE APPEARS TO BE ELECTED

Jews of State Choose Representative to National Congress.

Incomplete returns are said to indicate the election of Isadore A. Brodie, president of the Manchester Young Men's Hebrew association, as the representative from the New Hampshire district to the Jewish congress which takes place in Washington on Sept. 2.

The congress will meet to adopt resolutions taking up the status of the Jews at the World Peace conference when the present European war is brought to its end. The Jewish people of America will ask for equal political and religious rights for their compatriots in those countries where it does not exist at present and will also ask that Palestine be set aside as an independent Hebrew state under the protection and guarantee of some friendly power.

Candidates to represent New Hampshire were nominated at the convention of the Associated Y. M. H. A. organizations which took place in Manchester last May. The entire country has been divided up into districts of which New Hampshire comprises one, and this state under the terms of the allotment was entitled to one delegate.

Two candidates were named in May, Isadore A. Brodie of Manchester and Jacob S. Wilens of Nashua. E. M. Chase of Manchester, who was also an aspirant, but who failed of nomination in the convention, ran as an independent candidate, and the three-cornered contest aroused considerable rivalry. In this city the vote at the synagogue was 111 and at the Zionists club 90. It is believed that Mr. Chase led by a small majority.

In Exeter the vote was 25 for Chase and in Somersworth Mr. Chase had 23 and Mr. Brodie 3.

In Manchester the vote was taken at two polling places, one at the Congregation Adath Jeshurun. In this former, Mr. Brodie received 123 votes and Mr. Chase, 38, while in the latter Mr. Brodie received 132 and Mr. Chase 97. In Derry Brodie was given 10 and Chase 5, and in Franklin Brodie received 25 and Chase 3. Mr. Brodie's election was forecasted last night by about 150 plurality.

A board of electors also named at the convention, will meet in Manchester tonight and will canvass the returns. The members of this board are Morris Weisman, Abraham Machinist and J. M. Michelson of Manchester, Samuel Bloom of Nashua and David Fleishman and Harry Goldman of Portsmouth.

KITTERY MAN IS EXONERATED BY THE COURT

At the recent term of the supreme court at Alfred the case preferred against Mr. James Cash of Kittery by John W. S. Hodgdon was dismissed by the county attorney, there being no grounds on which to hold Mr. Cash. This case created considerable interest and indignation at the time it was brought up before Trial Justice Shaw. Mr. Cash is a popular young man in Kittery and his having been completely exonerated in this case is very pleasing news to his friends.

The story of the case was as follows. During the lifetime of the late Daniel B. Cook, Mr. Cash obtained permission from Mr. Cook to gather dead wood from his pasture. After Mr. Cook had died Mr. John W. S. Hodgdon made a deal with Mr. Jefferson D. Cook for some of the dead wood. Mr. Cash still exercising his right under permission from Mr. Cook, continued to gather the dead wood, whereupon Mr. Hodgdon lodged a complaint with Trial Justice Shaw charging Mr. Cash with unlawfully taking his wood.

Mr. Jefferson Cook stated that he had sold Mr. Hodgdon only a certain amount of wood and he completely exonerated Mr. Cash from any wrongful taking of the wood.

MAKE NO ATTEMPT TO REGAIN GROUND LOST TO BRITISH

(By Associated Press)

Another day has passed without effort on the part of the German forces to regain their lost territory on the Ypres front and no counter attacks were reported throughout the day, according to official reports from the western front. The great mine explosion and ferocious attacks launched by the forces under Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig has apparently shattered the German defenses on this salient. South of Ypres the Germans heavily bombarded the British position and made an attack on Saturday which met with failure.

Aerial engagements continued throughout Saturday and many air battles were fought. The British accounted for nine enemy air machines and losing three to the Germans.

There is no fighting on that part of the line where the Germans are facing the French above sporadic attacks and counterattacks, with the exception of one point. At Chemin des Dames the Germans early on Sunday launched an attack, piercing the French lines west of Calonne but the German force was later driven off by artillery and infantry, leaving many killed, wounded and prisoners.

In the Austro-Italian theatre only artillery action is reported. There is no attempt on the part of the Italians to continue or reopen their offensive although scouting forces for the Austrians on the Carso front indicate that the Austrian forces are contemplating a new drive against the Italians.

In Macedonia heavy artillery fighting is reported along the Karlova river section.

The situation in Russia at Kronstadt where the Council of Workmen and Soldiers' Delegates are defying the government remains tense. It is apparent that the government is to take the first step in resolute action as several officials have been recalled. The situation is somewhat relieved by the knowledge that the fleet is reliable and is supporting the government. A movement has been established by representatives of the Provisional Delegation from all Russia to join the Council of Workmen and Soldiers' Delegates at Kronstadt with the object of bringing the latter to terms.

The situation in Spain shows little improvement since the resignation of the premier last week. M. Prieto, who was appointed has declined to serve in the office and it is reported that Eduardo Dato, a former premier of Liberal leaning, will be called upon to form a cabinet.

Since the bombardment of Ostend the Germans are taking every precaution to prevent a second similar attack which is feared and all of the big German ships have been removed from the harbor.

MORAL OBLIGATION TO FEED ALLIES SAYS HOUSTON

(By Associated Press)

Washington, June 10.—The urgent need of food legislation was emphasized by Secretary Houston, of the Agriculture Department, today in a statement outlining in detail the purposes of food bills the administration has asked Congress to pass.

"Cooperating as we are with the nations of Europe in the war against the Central Powers," said Secretary Houston, "the task of maintaining the subsistence of the Allies is at once a political and moral obligation and a military necessity. War is always destructive of production and, in a peculiar sense, it is destructive of the production of foodstuffs, since war leads to a scarcity of labor and labor is one of the chief factors in cultivation of the soil."

In addition, the wheat crop of practically the entire world has suffered serious reduction during the past year, and the prospects for the coming year promise little or no increase in the production of this essential cereal.

"One of two courses lies open to our government. The first is to continue as we are at present, that is, to permit unhampered the abnormal operations of trade, rendered all the more abnormal because of the needs of the Allies for foodstuffs from this country. The second plan consists in the regulation or control of our foodstuffs to the double end of maintenance of the subsistence of the Allies and the protection of the food needs and commercial interests of our own people."

"The bills now pending in Congress provide for systematic development of our productive forces and an adequate control of distribution and consumption, to the end of conserving for ourselves and for the Allies the foodstuffs provided through the stimulation of agriculture."

Secretary Houston describes the first food bill as a measure to stimulate production and the second as one to control distribution. What is to be accomplished under each is given at length.

ADVOCATE INSURANCE TO PROVIDE FOR OLD AGE

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 9.—Legislation to provide insurance against loss of income because of illness or old age was advocated by Royal Meeker, Chief of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, in an address on "Social Insurance in the United States," before the National Conference of Charities and Corrections here today.

"The next logical step after the re-vamping and extension of our workmen's compensation laws would be the enactment of involuntary old age insurance legislation," he said. "It is a practical way can be found, I should favor contributory insurance to cover these hazards. However, I regard the payment by the worker in whole or in part, for insurance against invalidity and old age as a mere detail. It makes little difference in the results whether the workers pay or the state pays, as is demonstrated by the operation of the British non-contributory Old Age Pension act."

LIBERTY LOAN SUBSCRIPTION IS SHORT BY $700,000,000

(By Associated Press)

Washington, June 10.—The total subscription for the Liberty Loan is $1,300,000,000 as announced tonight by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, leaving $700,000,000 yet to be subscribed for in the five days remaining before the time limit is expired. Secretary McAdoo said that to date not one of the twelve Federal Reserve Districts had gained subscription reaching its maximum allotment. New York which is the slowest has still a large amount to raise. The subscriptions lack more than one third of coming up to the required amount, the secretary said.

Boston, with an allotment of from $210,000,000 to $300,000,000, has subscribed only $135,000,000.

SUMMER HINTS FOR THE HOME GARDENER.

It is not too late to plant radishes, string beans, lima beans, melons, Onions, potatoes, carrots, lettuce, corn, cucumbers, akra, squash, tomato plants, eggplant plants, cabbage plants, pepper plants, parsley, parsnips, satisfy.

There is still time in this section marked Zone) on the department's zone planting map for vegetables, to grow vegetables, say specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, but no time should be lost. If you have not already done so, plan your garden at once and get the crops in at the earliest possible moment.

If space is limited, select the crops the members of the family like best.

grow as many things as possible for winter use. Such vegetables as potatoes, onions, cabbage, carrots, and beans may be kept in their natural state for winter use, and should be included therefore in the garden.

There is yet time to grow any of the following: Beans, both lima and string, beets, cabbage (from plants), carrots, corn, cucumber, eggplant, (from the plants), lettuce, melons, okra, parsley, parsnips, etc.

The following cultural suggestions are made for the crops which may yet be planted with fair chances of success throughout most of the zone.

Beets—Beets may be planted at any time from now on. The young tender beets make fine greens and everything so there will be an ample supply. Gardeners should make immediate plantings.

Sow in rows 15 to 18 inches apart for hand cultivation or 2 to 2 1/2 feet apart for horse cultivation. The plants should be thinned to four to five inches apart in the row.

Cabbage—Cabbage plants should be set out at once. Set the plants in rows two to three feet apart and 14 to 18 inches apart in the rows.

Lettuce—Sow the seed in rows 15 to 18 inches apart. Thin the plants until they stand 5 to 10 inches apart. A half ounce of seed is sufficient for a hundred-foot row.

Parsnips—The rows may be as close as 15 to 18 inches apart if hand cultivation is to be given.

Radishes—Sow the seed in rows 12 to 14 inches apart for hand cultivation. Have the soil fine. One ounce of seed is enough for a hundred foot row.

Beans, String—Plant in rows 2 1/2 feet apart for either horse or hand cultivation and 3 to 4 inches apart in the row. A pint of seed is sufficient for a hundred foot row. Make plantings at intervals of ten days up to the first of July.

Cucumbers—Plant eight to ten seeds in a hill, spacing the hills 5 feet apart each way, and thin to 2 or 3 plants per row. The seed in rows 4 to 5 feet apart. When planted in rows, the plants should be about 15 inches apart, but the seed should be sowed much thicker, the plants being thinned later. A half ounce of seed is sufficient for a hundred foot row.

Squash—The bush variety should be planted in hills four feet apart each way and the running varieties 8 to 10 feet apart each way. One half ounce of seed is sufficient for a hundred foot row.

Muskmelons—The culture of the muskmelon is the same as the cucumber except that the plants are usually given more space. Plant 8 to 10 seeds in a hill, spacing the hills 6 feet apart and thin to single plants 18 to 24 inches apart.

Parsley—Parsley is sown in drills. A single drill a few feet in length will be sufficient for a family.

Corn—Plant closely in drills 3 feet apart and 10 to 14 inches in the rows. Peppers—Set the plants 15 to 18 inches apart in rows 1 1/2 to 3 feet apart. A dozen plants should be sufficient.

Onions (From Seed)—Sow seed in drills 12 to 18 inches apart for hand cultivation and 24 to 36 inches apart for horse cultivation. Thin 2 to 3 inches apart when the plants are several inches high.

YOUNG BOYS WORKING FOR LIBERTY LOAN

New York, June 10.—Twenty million calls will be paid at American homes during the four days beginning tomorrow by 235,000 boys who, not old enough to be called to the colors under the conscription act, will solicit people to purchase bonds of the Liberty Loan of 1917.

These youngsters, working under the direction of 11,000 men are members of the Boy Scouts of America and their campaign is their response to President Wilson's appeal to them on May 12 "to lend their aid to the secretary of the treasury in distributing applications and securing popular subscriptions to the loan. The President wrote to the boys that their was a 'wonderful opportunity for every Scout to do his share for his country under the slogan 'Every Scout to Save a Soldier'."

"The scouts will go forth with more than 10,000 campaign circulars, which they will leave at as many homes. Before Thursday night they will again have visited the same homes, this time to collect bond applications in which they hope will be written pledges which will add millions of dollars to the subscriptions which have already been made to the Liberty Loan. These 10,000,000 circulars were prepared in the government printing office—the 'biggest job of job printing ever handled' there, according to a statement issued from the Boy Scouts of America national headquarters here. They represent fifteen carloads. The circular makes this appeal to every household: 'Let the Boy Scouts who present this folder to you take your application for one or more of these bonds to the bank you designate and thus help us in our efforts to help our country and save the lives of our soldiers.'"

Every Scout who obtains subscriptions at ten or more different homes will be awarded a war service emblem. The movement represents the largest single effort ever undertaken by the organization.

PACIFISTS ARRESTED IN LONDON

(By Associated Press)

London, June 10.—Members of the National Seamen and Firemen's Association have arrested Frederick W. Jowett, prominent Independent Labor leader, and James R. Macdonald, chairman of the labor party committee of Parliament as they were preparing to leave for Petrograd to attend the Socialist convention. The announcement of the arrest was made at a mass meeting in Trafalgar Square by President Tompkins of the National Seamen and Firemen's Association.

In a dramatic moment he announced to the meeting that he had taken in custody Jowett and Macdonald, both members of Parliament of the labor party as they were pacifists.

The men were first held by seamen on the steamer on which they were about to leave for Petrograd. The Seamen and Firemen resolved at a meeting last month that they would not sail on vessels which carried pacifists to either Petrograd or Stockholm where the Socialists convention is to be held.

GOVERNMENT HANDLING THE CLOTHING PLAN

(By Associated Press)

Berlin, June 8.—The German Imperial Clothing Office has begun a system of direct relief for the civil population. It announces that it has ordered 125,000 read-made men's suits to official pattern and size, which will be distributed all over the country for sale at low prices to the poorer classes of the population.

GERMAN CHILDREN TO FARMS

Sent by the Thousand From Cities for Work and Better Food:

The newspapers devote much space to a description of the departure of nearly 1000 children from Berlin to the villages and farmhouses of East Prussia. The children will be used, as far as possible on light farm work while they are regaining health and strength under the stimulus of more plentiful farm food.

Committees, which have been collecting funds for some time have made arrangements with country people who are willing to take over city children for periods varying from one to four months.

Immense families in the larger towns throughout Germany find the burden of keeping their children growing heavier. School authorities repeatedly have asserted that under-nutrition is seriously interfering with work in the schools and statistics gathered by the medical supervisors show a steadily decreasing standard of weight and growth in child pupils.

The first party of 1000 Berlin children left in the early evening on a 16-hour journey under the care of a staff of nurses and school teachers. Their ages ranged from 8 to 14 years.

LAWYERS WILL MEET AT LACONIA

The annual meeting of the Bar association of the State of New Hampshire will be held in the county court room at Laconia at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday, June 30.

The president's address by Hon. Stephen S. Jovett of Laconia, will be on the subject of "Observations on the Practice of Law in New Hampshire." Prof. Roscoe Pound of the Harvard Law School will deliver the annual address, his subject being "The Revival of Federal Government."

Following the exercises the visiting lawyers will be the guests of the Laconia lawyers in an automobile trip about the surrounding country. The banquet will be held at the Laconia Tavern in the evening.

For those who remain over Sunday a trip around Lake Umbagog will be proposed. The meeting at Laconia two years ago was one of the largest ever held and it is anticipated that the coming meeting will fully equal it.

MOUNTAIN SHEEP

The mountain sheep of America are the proudest and handsomest of our wild animals. They are most perfect combination of strength, hardiness, endurance, agility, beauty, and grace. They are the most delicate in their tastes, and the most artistic in temperament. Their home is the most picturesque and their food the rarest. They are extremely timid in the presence of their enemies, but courageous in battling with the many forbidding elements to which their lives in the high mountains are exposed.

They range through the greatest depth of latitude of any family of the mammals on the continent and are instinctively wild. No wild animals are further removed from their domestication; they find the most congenial home in the pure air of the wildest mountain countries, and so far all efforts to transplant and domesticate them have been failures.

According to the Indian tradition, they once lived in the lowlands when the earth was yet in darkness, but when the earth was lighted and the rays of the sun burst suddenly upon them, they were seriously frightened and fled to the mountains, where they have since remained.

Indians are not our most reliable source of knowledge in tracing the early history of our animal life, but their story is not entirely improbable, for we have records of much greater changes having taken place in the habits of many of our wild animals.

Many names have been given to the first species of mountain sheep discovered in America, and it has required careful investigation to trace the priority between canadensis and cervina. They were described by Desmarest as Ovis cervina in 1804, but it is now generally admitted that Shaw described them as Ovis canadensis in 1855, and there is but little doubt that canadensis will be recognized in scientific circles as the name they are fully entitled to bear, and it is now pronounced by many of our best informed zoologists as of unquestionable priority.

The habits of the sheep are very regular and very interesting. In winter all ages mingle in large bands of various numbers, according as they are plentiful in any given locality. They will pay the snow from the grass where it is only a few inches deep, but they usually keep to high tablelands, where the winds keep the snow blown off. The character of their coat is such as to give them great protection against cold and storm, and it is rare that the northern herds seek any more protection from the elements than what they find among the cliffs or rock. The canadensis are more accustomed to being in timber, and often seek the higher belts of timber during storm, and sometimes come down to the very bottom of the canyons.

The other varieties, the dall, the stone and the fawn are simply defy the elements throughout the long Arctic and sub-Arctic winters. Like most animals, they do not feed much during severe storms, and will huddle closely the little fellows crouching alongside the older ones for warmth and protection, while many of the adult males and stronger animals get restless and proud about, walk the highest ridges and alpine indifferent to the fierce blasts of wind and snow.

When the storm breaks, they will a fence set out to some feeding ground of which they have a most perfect knowledge. They know their own home, and always know where to look for food, even when it would seem that every foot of their country was buried deep in snow.

It not infrequently happens, however that during storms they remain in some small rocky cave and the winds drift the snow deeply, their only avenue of escape so deeply that they find their way out with difficulty. The old males are always the first to break their way out and their superior strength is often put to a severe test, but the road made by them is of great advantage to the weaker and younger animals. During the winter season, the old males always lead the way from one feeding ground to another.—All Out Doors.

CONSCRIPTION IN CANADA IS CAUSING TROUBLE

(By Associated Press)
OTTAWA, Canada, June 10.—E. T. Patenaud, Secretary of State, has tendered his resignation to the cabinet because of his opposition to conscription. Senator Haultain and Sir Herbert Ames are two of the men most prominently mentioned for the portfolio. Sir Robert Borden, the Premier, announced today that Mr. Sevington, Minister of Internal Revenue, was also contemplating resigning his office for the same reason.

The attempt of Premier Borden to form a coalition cabinet composed of Liberals and Conservatives, which would give the question fair representation on both sides appears to have failed and it is now believed that the government will have the larger number of cabinet members.

Opposition to conscription is strong in many sections especially in the Province of Quebec and should the bill be passed trouble is expected in this and other provinces. The Premier announced that the bill would be introduced in Parliament today.

FOR PATRIOTIC TABLE MANNERS

(From Camp Fire Girls, Inc., 461 Fourth Ave., New York City.)
"Patriotic" table manners are the subject of the leading article in the June number of Wabeta, the monthly magazine of the Camp Fire Girls, which has just completed the fourth successful year. The article is by Dr. Luther H. Child, president of the organization, and his wife. They point out that every scrap of food left on the plates of American families might be helping to keep a hungry child in Europe from starving, and add:

"We must feed our friends, the Allies. We must feed ourselves. We are going to take from four to six million laborers away from their present work and put them into the army, or at doing work for the army. With this shortage of labor, we cannot increase the amount of wheat, corn, beef or pork which we produce unless every girl begins to help now."

Their conclusion is that "patriotic" table manners must prevail, and that we should look upon the people who waste food, who are willing to overeat while other people go hungry, who are willing to leave the best of the food on the table, leaving our guests, the Allies, to get anything they can, as disloyal to our country. Here are some of the suggestions for helping our guests as well as ourselves:

1. Save and use every scrap of bread or other wheat product.
2. Use meat or eggs but once a day.
3. Use all left-over bits of meat and bones for soup, stews and hashes.
4. Use corn in place of wheat to a considerable extent.
5. Buy only the food you need.
6. Clean out all bread and cake bowls, and dishes used for cooking.

OUR FIRST WAR SCANDAL

For gold-bloated, profiteering, it would be hard to beat the present manipulation of coal prices. It is the first big scandal of the war.

A 300 increase in prices is warranted and dishonest. There is no shortage of coal; in fact, some of the mines are not being operated, the purpose being, it is said, to cut down the supply. Nothing is there the slightest warrant for anything like such a price increase on account of war conditions.

The mine owners first added 25 cents to last year's price to take care of increased operating expenses; recently that gave it a still bigger boost by adding $1.20 more. In the opinion of impartial observers, this is nothing more or less than an effort to gouge the public. It is an unscrupulous attempt to get rich quick through war profits.

Meanwhile the government needs thousands of tons of coal to make rifle barrels. Some harsh things have been said and some harsh things ought to be done. The indictment is very simple, in a time of national crisis the coal men for their own profit are holding up not only the public, but the government itself.—Chicago Tribune.

THE MONITOR COMES BASK

British monitors are playing an important part in the Italian advance. The monitors have again proved themselves in this war. They appear to be the only type of craft that can carry big guns into shallow water and bombard coast fortifications successfully. Submarines cannot follow them into these shallows and they have so little freedom that they present a difficult mark for the enemy to hit.

Monitors took up the sea work at the Dardanelles after the battleships had submarines to seek protected ports. They had not been driven by the monitors and the British coast when attacks are made on the German bases there. Now they are shelling the Aus-

THE DANGERS BILIOUSNESS

This trouble often seems a simple one and you know how utterly useless it makes you feel.

Well, your system is just as weak as you feel and will readily succumb to colds or any serious diseases with which you come in contact.

Why not protect yourself against these deadly risks and be 100 per cent efficient all the time. C. E. Browster & Co., of Dover, the successful druggists, are enthusiastic over their success with that old and tried remedy, Abbey's Bile-Reserve Salts. It is so pleasant to take and so infallible in its results that it is rapidly adding but only to his patronage but to his reputation as a discriminating druggist who knows it to be good business to offer only the best to his patrons.

Try the new package of Abbey's, larger than ever at the same price, and see how it will brighten and strengthen you.

For any pain, burn, scald or bruise, apply Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—the household remedy. Two sizes 25c and 50c at all drug stores.

PRESENT WAR WILL INCREASE TUBERCULOSIS

(By Associated Press)
Pittsburgh, Pa., June 11.—Alice Stewart, superintendent of the Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh, declared in an address before the National Conference of Charities and Corrections today that the United States must have an increased force at home for tuberculosis nursing during the war and for some years afterward.

"The present war crisis will greatly increase the problem of tuberculosis and doubtless complicate it," she said. "With the certainty that the Red Cross and the army will draw to some extent upon the present crops of trained nurses, we are forced to give earnest, constructive consideration to the question of how to best meet this need and supplement the ranks of the workers."

"For tuberculosis nursing work we believe this need can be substantially met by nurses' aides or trained assistants. Tuberculosis hospitals provide an ideal place for just such training as these attendants should have. Further valuable assistance in tuberculosis work can be rendered by the volunteer lay workers."

EXEMPTION IS ASKED BY HALF REGISTERING

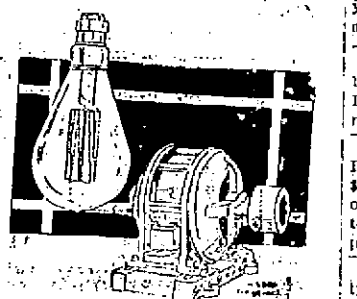

Washington, June 10.—Virginia and the National Parks today added their completed returns to the office of the Provost Marshal for the war registration of last Tuesday bringing the total figures for the twenty-seven states; District of Columbia and the National Parks up to 1,805,584. The census estimate for these states, District and Parks was 5,664,420.

The total registration returns to date show the registration of 3,621,966 white, 692,734 colored, 45,179 enemy aliens and 279,536 aliens. It was announced that 2,621,633 registering had asked for exemption.

Officials of the war department believe that the total registration will go over 9,000,000 which will be more than 80 per cent of the census estimate of eligibles.

ENTERTAINED FRENCH OFFICERS

On Sunday Professor and Mrs. Barrett Wendell of Pleasant street entertained Major J. J. L. Azan and Major J. deReveliers de Mauny of the French mission who are at present at Harvard University.

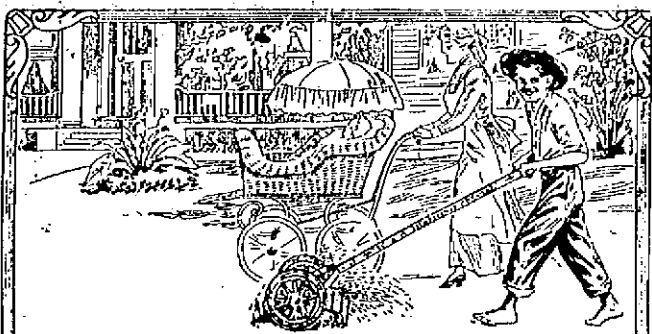

The distinguished guests arrived in the regulation uniform of the French army arrived on the 10.40 train from Boston and a few of our local citizens had their first opportunity of seeing officers of the French army. They were met by Professor Wendell and were at once taken to his summer home where they remained during their stay, the weather being of such a character as to interfere with any opportunity for sight seeing.

Other guests at the lunch tended the distinguished guests were Captain W. L. Howard, the commandant of the Portsmouth navy yard and Mrs. Howard.

The two French officers returned to Cambridge on the afternoon train.

John E. Kennedy of Dover was a visitor here on Sunday and as usual "Neighbor" was warmly greeted by his many old time friends.

BURGLARS BUSY SUNDAY NIGHT

Visit Three Lunch Rooms and Saloon; Police Arrest Navy Man and Charge Him With Breaks.

Crooks were busy on Sunday night and early Monday morning when they visited three lunch rooms and the saloon of M. J. Jacques at 25 Vaughan street. They forced their way into the eating places of M. J. Jacques, C. H. Hobbs at Depot avenue and W. H. Chick on Congress street. At M. J. Jacques they got away with $10, and took $3.00 and cigarettes from Hobbs.

The hold work of the night was the job at Jacques. They broke the glass in the small windows over the main door on Vaughan street which they crawled through and dropped to the street floor. Here they made a great hunt for money, forcing open the desk in the office and the cash register. The register contained no money and only a revolver is missing from the desk according to the proprietor. They left the place by the rear door which the officers later found open.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Officer Kelley saw a sailor enter the stable yard of Rufus Wood and quickly disappear in the building. The officer on making a search found that the glass of the rear window of Chick's lunch room had been broken and the bolt on the door pushed back. Entering the main dining room he saw the front window open and the whole thing was plain to him. The burglar had just got into the place when he saw the officer hunting about the stable with his flashlight and made a quick exit out the window on Congress street. The fact that he had no time to work is evident as the cash register containing $20 remained untouched.

Shortly after this break, Officer Murphy arrested a sailor on Congress street, giving the name of Frank Walworth, who the officers believe was the man seen to enter the yard of Woods' stable. While on the way to the police headquarters the sailor began throwing away cigarettes and when searched later a $10 bill was found on his person. The clerk at the Merrifield place believes that the money was taken from the register there. Walworth denies any connection with the robberies and claims he had $50 when he came ashore. He has been in the service but a short time, coming here from Newport in April with other recruits.

He will be arraigned in court this afternoon or Tuesday morning. The police are satisfied that Walworth, if guilty, was not alone, and that others had a hand in the robberies.

WILSON-TUCKER

The marriage of George Wilson, Jr., of this city and Miss Gertrude Mae Tucker of Kittery, took place at the parsonage of the Court street Christian church on Sunday evening, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Percy Caswell. The single ring service was used and the couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tobey. The groom is a member of the U. S. marine corps.

SPECIAL MUSIC AT THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION CHURCH

The solemnity of the Feast of Corpus Christi was celebrated at the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Sunday with a large attendance at all the services. At the high mass at 10.30 a. m. the senior choir was assisted by an orchestra of six pieces, and rendered the following under the direction of the organist and director, W. W. McIntire.

ELECT OFFICERS AND PURCHASE LIBERTY BONDS

The election and installation of officers of the Burdett's Union, No. 309, took place at Labor hall on Sunday as follows: President, William Wallace; vice president, J. J. Rafferty; recording secretary, L. E. Thatcher; financial secretary, Horace Stetson; inspector, E. Ahearn; inside guard, Thomas Flitig; outside guard, John Walsh; trustees, E. Ahearn, Thomas Molloy, John Logue. The installation work was in charge of the Dover local, followed by a lunch. The organization ordered the purchase of two $50 Liberty Loans.

A BIG AFFAIR

This morning a Herald man happened to run into Bill Dow who is promoting the Liberty Bond Concert and Ball at Freeman's hall, Wednesday evening, and was informed that all details for the affair were perfected and the biggest crowd in the history of the hall will be present. Bill says he is in receipt of numerous inquiries from out of town people requiring confirmation relative to the date, which means that numerous strangers will be present. Giving away a $50,000 Liberty Bond; with an eight piece orchestra, four police officers, two matrons and a high price team of exhibition dangers does surely look like a colossal affair.

YMCA SERVICES HELD AT FORT CONSTITUTION

On Sunday morning Sumner H. Emerson of Portsmouth college, spoke at the weekly service in the Fort Constitution Y. M. C. A. Mr. Emerson was one of the members of the "Deputation" from Dartmouth that spoke by the tent two weeks ago and the good sized audience which turned out in spite of the rain to hear him, testifies to the impression made on the soldiers by the former address. The subject chosen was "Loyalty," and the speaker drove home the truths brought out by the story of Peter's denial, in a forceful way. In the evening a "church party" attended the Neweast Congregational church.

The usual morning picture show was given Saturday evening and a record breaking crowd was present. A delay in the motor bus service held up the films for nearly an hour but the Y. M. C. A. orchestra entertained the audience in the meantime. Private Dewey Chafford rendered a vocal solo, with a violin solo for an encore. When the reels finally arrived, they proved to be excellent, and the long delay proved no detriment to the entertainment.

D. B. Murphy, the assistant secretary, returned on Wednesday to Wilmamstown, Mass., to take his examination for graduation, and Ralph T. White of Monmouth, Ill., is now holding this position. Mr. White has been assisting Mr. Estes in the Portsmouth Y. M. C. A. for the past two weeks.
